Upcoming Christmas Panto

Peter Pan Christmas Panto

This Christmas, Inclusion College is presenting a Christmas Panto based upon the classic story of Peter Pan.

Here are the details on the release date: it will premiere on Tuesday the 13th of December

How would you describe the show?

"It was the story of Peter Pan retold in a unique Inclusion style: with lots of comedy and lots of fights."

What did you enjoy most about filming?

"Seeing everybody enjoying themselves and performing to such a high standard. Remembering their lines and acting so well."

Do you have any future productions planned?

"Yes! In discussion as we speak. We're thinking of a horror/thriller set in the woods on a camping trip for the next one. But any other ideas are more than welcome!"

Question Of The Week

If you could go back to any point in time, when would you go and why?

"The '60s, to experience the incredible creative and artistic expansion that occurred during that decade" (MC)

"Early '90s before phones, it was a simpler time" (AE)

"1985. To be in the crowd of the Live Aid Concert to see Queen live." (NN)

"I'd go to the past and punish the abusers I encountered" (BA)

"1945, to shoot Hitler before he could kill himself" (M)

"Back to being 19, to reconsider some decisions I made" (JH)

"When I was one, so I didn't have any problems" (ZB)

"2500 BC, to witness Ancient Egypt" (JCM)

"I'm happy with where I am now" (LiJ)

"The Gregorian Era with the powdered wigs so I could wear tights and pantaloons" (JS-N)

"Reading Festival 1992, for the vibes" (JN)

Question For Next Week

If you could listen in on any room in the world, which room would it be?

Made this week in the Inclusion Kitchen:

Cupcakes

Heat your oven to 180°C/160°C fan and line a muffin tray with 12 cases.

Beat the unsalted butter with the caster sugar/light brown sugar until fluffy.

Add the eggs, self-raising flour, cocoa powder and orange zest (and orange extract if using) to the unsalted butter/sugar mix until well combined.

If the mixture is too stiff you can add 1 tbsp whole milk at a time to get a smooth light consistency.

Split the mixture evenly into your baking cups, then bake in the oven for 15-20 minutes, or until a skewer poked into one of the cakes comes out clean and they are springy to touch.

Leave to cool fully on a cooling rack!

Chocolate Buttercream Frosting

Beat the unsalted butter with an electric mixer for a couple of minutes to loosen.

Gradually beat in the icing sugar until well combined, then add the cocoa powder and orange extract and beat for 5 minutes until a silky lovely buttercream texture is produced. If the mixture is a little stiff, add one tbsp milk at a time till you reach the consistency you want!

Ingredients

Cupcakes

175 g unsalted butter
175 g caster sugar/light brown sugar
3 large eggs
135 g self raising flour
40 g cocoa powder
Zest of one large orange
1/4 tsp orange extract (optional)
1-3 tbsp whole milk

Chocolate Buttercream Frosting

175 g unsalted butter (room temperature)
320 g icing sugar
30g cocoa powder
1/4 tsp orange extract
1-3 tbsp milk

Inclusion Pet Update

Carlos shed his skin last week, so is back to being a vibrant yellow colour and much more happy than before.

Gibbs the Crested Gecko is doing well. He has some very big locusts in his enclosure with him he also enjoys his new special reptile jelly pots.

There is now only one new fishlet left since the 9th edition. The older fishlet is getting big and is almost always out with the big fish looking for food. We have had no fish fatalities this past 2 weeks.

The 4 giant african land snails are happy and growing really well. They have almost finished their cuttlebone and are still really enjoying their cucumber. They also have a special powder that mixes with water to make a paste which they seem to enjoy most of the flavours we have bought. .

Weekly video game discussion: Minecraftia

What is Minecraft:

Minecraft was created in 2011 by Mojang studios

Minecraft is a three-dimensional survival world where players break various kinds of blocks learning the different materials of different terrains, exploring the world building anything you like out of the materials you have explored. There is also a creative option where rather than surviving throughout the game you already have everything available, and the possibilities are endless with what you can make without the stresses nor pressure of trying to survive and fight off monsters you encounter or trying to find difficult materials to make the ultimate weapon or whatever you like.

Minecraft is also a cross-platform game meaning you can play on consoles such as Xbox, PS3 or PS4 also the best platform PC and phone and tablet you can also play with your friends no matter what you're playing on, although it can be quite complicated to set up it is entirely possible and is incredibly fun.

What Minecraft means to me:

Minecraft came out in 2011 I was a child then, during my childhood things were hard, and my mental health suffered a lot minecraft became an escape for me and many other children playing this silly block game learning about different materials and what they can be used for was oddly very soothing most children need an escape from school and the stress of living minecraft allowed not only playing by yourself but also your friends my personal favourite method of playing Minecraft.

Minecraft means a lot to me, I played it when it came out, and I still play it to this day as an adult as I grew throughout life so did minecraft, although it does sound sappy the game for many of us is a very nostalgic game, although I can't remember my childhood I can still remember little memories of playing Minecraft I think really did enjoy it
Why I recommend playing minecraft;

Why I recommend playing Minecraft

If you have the time and money like all games I recommend giving it a try if it interests you! What's convenient about minecraft is when you buy it you do not have to purchase anything else as everything is already packed into the game ready for you to have a good experience and all major updates are free, and you will be notified when there will be an update, although there is a thing called mods where you can get pre-made maps to venture which does cost money but isn't very necessary unless you want to do something like that. You can also purchase character skins (which is what your characters essentially looks like the default skin is Minecraft Steve) but you can freely download a skin online rather than spending money or just use the already existing default Minecraft Steve skin which you have immediately when you buy the game, but customisation is always available free online but can be a little complicated to download, but the end result is always satisfying you can also create your very own customized skin on free apps which can be very fun to have your own completely unique skin, or you can upload it to a skin app where Minecraft gamers create skins and download them for people anywhere to use it's a lot like Instagram for Minecraft skins its really interesting and fun to see what people have created I'd say in itself is an art form.

Minecraft is so unique, and I have seen some truly amazing things built in this game from incredible cities, kingdoms, real life places that have been identically made, whole worlds from video games and movies that have been exactly recreated, The list goes on.

It's fun to set your mind to something in minecraft, whether that's to tame a horse or to build a house, the possibilities are endless.

We also have a Minecraft server in this college. If you would like to join, please talk to Steph, a student here!

Minecraft tips for beginners

1. The first thing to make in Minecraft is a crafting table. You can make one by harvesting wood from a tree. Making a crafting table will allow you to craft many different things.
2. At night monsters will appear and attack, It is best to focus on survival and building something, so you are sheltered until morning
3. You can make a bed to sleep at night. To do this, you need to shear or kill a few sheep for their wool. You will also need to collect 3 wooden planks from a tree
4. The first tool you should make is a pickaxe, this will allow you to mine stone and craft better tools.
5. Monsters will only appear in dark places, so you can use torches or other light sources to prevent this.
